Gardens of the Elder Gods (Journal of the Ancient Ones) M. Don Schorn

'Gardens of the Elder Gods' is the third volume within a continuing series, with each text written as a stand-alone book, allowing the trilogy to be read in any order. It presents further documentation of extraterrestrial contact throughout Earth's ancient past, revealing puzzling archaeological sites that contained modern achievements. Indications of otherworldly influences, which established the legendary lost cities of antiquity and their advanced cultures, are substantiated from accounts in archaic texts and anomalous artifacts retrieved from Earth's geological and fossil records. This volume also retraces the migratory paths taken to repopulate Earth after the Great Flood, focusing on cryptic archaeological discoveries that reveal evidence of even earlier cultures from which well-known historic civilizations later emerged. The absence of any prior development period suggests that Earth's earliest civilizations were spontaneously formed as a result of external influences from beyond Earth.
